Some one sends us a document from the "New England Loyal Publication Society." It is devoted to the American citizen of African descent, and tries to make out of him as well as it can. This number has a good deal to say about the negro, and is, in many respects, successful. It has an overbearing account of the negro, and is very strict and exclusive. A malicious, obstinate negro is charged, of course to rob or steal for a living. This is not the old way, but the improvement is not discernible. The negro is perfectly destitute, and if he dares to talk to the overseer the way freemen talk when they are not pleased, he can starve. We are told that the negro has the right to attend divine worship on Sunday; and we are gravely assured that he never had that right before; yet we are informed that the negro is religious and devout. Where did he learn his religion, is a point these certificates do not inquire into. The laborer is not to be idle, and if he is, he is to be whipped. Just drunk enough to be communicative. He showed me a pass from the captain of company One Hundred and Seventy-sixth New York, to travel to Nashville, Tenn., and vicinity and search for horses belonging to the officers of that regiment. The pass was countersigned by the major and some other officers. He had been out, though I did not know it at the time, to the stables to look at the horses. He told me he was going to Carrollton, and perhaps to Nashville, and that before he came back he was going to make his drunken talk, bullying and blustering, upon the whole, he did not take any horses. He appeared, from inquiry, that there were none in the house, and that made him bold.

Now, there are two observations to make upon this state of things. We are denouncing the effects of all the negroes. These unwholesome creatures, who looked forward to our coming with so much hope and delight, who were none but open arms and tears, and who, as learning to distrust a United States officer, and hate a Northern man as much as they do the rebel, are now to be sold as slaves, again—they will die in their tracks first—but unless we speedily do something to change the conduct of our officers, there will be a great deal of blood shed. We shall convert them into vagabonds and highway robbers, gypsies and desperadoes. I am shocked beyond conception at the state of affairs here. It is worse than anywhere else, because the whole of the vast wealth of this country, coupled, accessible, and close to the market, come into our hands suddenly, and there has been but little fighting compared with the territory conquered. There has been no blood shed, and no property lost, and no lives sacrificed, and yet the negroes are being sold as slaves, and the white men are being treated as if they were rebels.

East Tennessee.

Since this war began we have heard much of East Tennessee and its loyalty. We have seen on our roads refugees from that blighted section, seeking homes in more peaceful climes, over which the waves of war had not rolled their desolating volume. It has been of interest to us in this State, as it has been the base of all the main operations against our border counties, and even struck into the Bluegrass region. If they have been driven from a place, it has been only to be of no intrinsic value, it has been the key to Eastern Kentucky, and a flanking point for all the operations that have been made upon the State of Kentucky. Wrapped up as we have been in the opening of the Mississippi and sending idle excursions along the Atlantic coast, we have paid little regard to that hardy and independent people, who seem, under oppression, to have the valor of the Swiss. How much they may have been oppressed we cannot say. Aliens to their soil, however, have entered and disturbed the primitive habits of the people, and have reduced the wealth of that section very much. Its leading loyal politician when the war began was the Hon. T. A. R. Nelson; its leading editor was Paulson Brownlow, who has been rewarded for his services by the State of Tennessee. HOME.
Two birds within one nest;
Two hearts within one breast;
Two souls within one fate;
Two loves within one state.
An ear that waits to catch,
A hand upon the latch;
A step that hastens its sweet rest to win;
A world of care without,
A world of strife shut out,
A world of love shut in.

GEN. MEADE'S ARMY.—It is stated that, with the new recruits and the reinforcements from the immediate vicinity of Washington, released by the employment of the invalid corps to man the forts, Gen. Meade's army numbers ninety thousand men.

Mrs. "GOVERNMENT."—Mrs. Lincoln is said to have been lavish in splendid winter hats and toilettes.

TO DETECT COPPER IN PICKLES OR GREEN TEA.—Put a few leaves of the tea, or some of the pickles, cut small, into a phial with two drops of a strong solution of nitric acid, and shake the phial, when, if the most minute portion of copper is present, the acid will assume a fine blue color.—Exchange.

—The Boston Transcript says: We understand from what we consider undoubted authority, that Gen. Scott is not only a man of military ability, but in sentiment and principle, and in the management of his private affairs, is a man of the highest order. He is a man of the highest order. He is a man of the highest order.

—Brigham Young has just led another bride to the altar. Brigham urges his people to receive kindly sisters from abroad.

—We learn that Hon. Pierre Soule has been appointed Brigadier General, and is likely to be a great service. Gen. Soule has been popular in Louisiana, and will attract, no doubt, a great number of soldiers, and will be a great service.

Letter from Eastern Kentucky.

(Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.)
During the six weeks just past, much has been done by our vigilant and energetic post commander to advance the reign of law and order in this military district. Three well planned and successful expeditions have been made, in which several very dangerous men were captured, and several plundering bands almost broken up.

On the 17th ultimo, Captain Ford, of the Thirty-ninth, with 125 men, was ordered to cross the Cumberland Mountains, to the right of Pound Gap; Captain Welch, with fifty men, to occupy Beaver Creek, and Lieutenant Coleman, with the same number, to occupy the road to the right of Pound Gap; Captain Welch, with fifty men, to occupy Beaver Creek, and Lieutenant Coleman, with the same number, to occupy the road to the right of Pound Gap.

These forces made their pickets, killed fifteen rebels in skirmishing, lost one Lieutenant, and captured a number of prisoners. These were now desired to enlist in the Union army, and say that they can recruit a full company for the Forty-third, in the neighborhood of the hill, which has been entirely rebel in the past.

Capt. Ford has gone into camp at Pikeston. He is reinforced, is scouting as far as Pound Gap, and capturing prisoners daily.

On the night of the 20th, a band of Federal soldiers made their way into the mountains, and robbed the bank of $1,500. Colonel Gallup sent a Lieutenant, with twenty men, to the mountains, to the right of Pound Gap, and captured a number of prisoners.

On the 26th, Lieutenant Colonel Welch, of the Forty-third, with 100 men, made a raid on the mountains, to the right of Pound Gap, and captured a number of prisoners.

CITY NEWS.

Owing to the increased price of labor and all material used in the manufacture of gas, the Louisville Gas Company have in- creased the price twenty cents per thousand feet.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.—About 7 o'clock last night the extensive box manufactory of Good- will & Co., situated between Second and Third streets and Main and the river, was dis- covered to be on fire, and before the engines were enabled to reach the scene the entire building was wrapped in one sheet of flame, and in a short time was burned to the ground. The fire spread with fearful rapidity to the adjoining buildings, and in a short time the whole of W. Brooks and Jao. Smith, used for the storage of salt, were in flames. After the engines reached the scene the flames were quickly subdued, and the rapid progress of the fire element stopped.

The buildings used by Goodwill & Co. as a box manufactory were burned by Samuel Day, and were worth not over $2,000. They were entirely destroyed. The loss of Good- will & Co., by the burning of boxes and loss of Mr. Brooks will probably amount to about $300 for the damage to some 100 barrels of salt. Mr. Smith will lose, by the damage to salt and the partial destruction of his sheds, about $800, making a total loss of not over $5,000. The fire is supposed to have resulted from carelessness, as one of the hands was working there but a short time before the fire was discovered. At one time there was great danger that the fire would spread to the build- ings on second street, but owing to the ex- ertions of the soldiers present no further dam- age was done.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS.—We understand that the extension of the Nashville railroad to Portland, as first ordered by the government, will not be made, the idea having been aban- doned. The extension of that road, so as to form a junction with the Frankfort road, is now nearly completed, and will be finished in the course of two or three days. The work of extending the road to First street and the river is also being pushed vigorously forward, and will shortly be completed. The work of extending the Jeffersonville road to New Albany has been commenced, and will, we learn, be finished in the course of ten days. When these extensions are finished there will be a complete link between the four roads, the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, Jeffersonville, Louisville and Frankfort, and the Louisville and Nashville, with the ex- ception of the crossing of the river from Jeffersonville to this place. This will greatly facilitate shipments, as there will then be no sailing to be done, all the roads being ex- tended to the river bank.

WOOD'S THEATRE.—This evening is set apart for the benefit of that accomplished young actress Miss Jane Coombs, when will be presented for the first time in this city an elegant comedy, entitled "The World of a Fool," which has the reputation of being one of the best of modern productions. It is written and performed in London in 1862 by the most signified success. Sheridan Knowles' admirable comedy of the "Love Chase" will also be acted. The great com- bination should of itself attract an overflowing house, putting aside the lady's unbounded popularity, who with the Louisville people laid the foundation to build a lasting and substantial reputation. Miss Coombs will retain the part of Marie, the principal role in the new comedy, and Constantine, the "Love Chase," supported by the entire strength of the excellent stock company now engaged at this establishment. Let the water be crowded on this occasion, which will be but a deserving testimonial to the highly gifted beneficiary.

HOUSE RENTS.—There was never a time, probably, when houses were in greater de- mand in this city than at the present mo- ment. Houses rent within a short time have nearly doubled, and it is almost impossible to obtain a house at any price. The demand chiefly for small houses and cottages, and the stimulus of the demand building increases with great rapidity, and in nearly every portion of the city the sound of the hammer and the ring of the trowel may be heard. In the lower portion of the city we find that all the vacant lots are being filled and on nearly every square you can see a new two to four new residences being erect- ed. Owing to the deficiency in currency, real estate is much higher than at almost any pre- vious time during the history of Louisville, and yet the transactions are larger. The in- crements being made in the city are nu- merous, and in a short space of time we hope the entire aspect between Louisville and Grand Island will find with residences.

THE MINSTRELS.—Sprague, Smith & Ob- dour's band of negro minstrels open at Ma- son's Temple on Thursday evening of next week. This troupe is composed of some of the best performers that travel, and, judging from the press in the different cities where they have performed, they can have no supe- rior. We hope that Mason's Temple will be filled on the opening night.

CITY COUNCIL.—The City Council was in session last night. A resolution passed both in the Council and in the Mayor's office, to sell the interest of the city in the Louisville railroad to private stockholders. Resolutions were passed to bowlder Fourth street from Main to the river, and to transact any further business of the Council adjourned for two weeks.

THE WEATHER.—The weather yesterday was delighful- ly warm and pleasant, though rather warm for the season of the year.

THE HOG MARKET.—The pork packers of this city, Jeffersonville and New Albany, In- diana, have made extensive preparations for the coming packing season, and it is gener- ally believed that the number of hogs killed around the falls this season will be larger than any previous one since the year 1853. All the houses in this city, together with those at Jeffersonville and New Albany, will be opened for business about the middle of November. Our packers here have purchased several thousand hogs to be delivered during the month of November at the pens of the farmers at $4, gross, which is equal to $5 75 net. At this price the packers in our city are willing to contract, but they will not pur- chase at any higher price. Farmers are not buying back for higher prices, and for this reason but few transactions have been made of late. We understand that all the hogs in the coun- ties of Lincoln, Garrard, Boyle, Mercer, Casey and Madison have been purchased by the Government, at $3 75 per hundred, and will be driven to Knoxville Tennessee, where they will be packed by the Government for the use of the army of the Ohio.

As yet, we have been unable to learn of any contracts in regard to new mess pork. Speculators are, owing to the unsettled con- dition of the market, unwilling to take hold. It is generally believed that all the houses in this city will be in full blast between the 15th and the 20th of November.

A MARRIED MAN RUNS AWAY WITH AN- OTHER WOMAN.—HE IS PURSUED BY HIS WIFE. On Tuesday night a dispatch was received at the office of the Chief of Police, in this city, from Mrs. Porter, in St. Louis, stating that her husband, Alex. Porter, had left that city in company with another woman, to whom he had been married, and that he was in this city. Inquiries were made of the Chief of Police, and he was informed that he knew nothing about the matter, the simple statement of the woman, who was un- known, was not deemed sufficient to cause the arrest of Porter, and he was allowed to remain at liberty. Porter in the meantime got wind of the fact that his first wife was on his track, and on Wednesday morning he left the city, taking with him his last love. Shortly after his departure his real wife, from St. Louis, arrived in our city, and in company with an officer, started after her husband, who had gone to West Point. Upon reaching that place Mrs. Porter found that her husband had left on a boat bound for Memphis. Mrs. Porter thinking that further pursuit would be useless, returned to this city on Wednesday, and on Wednesday night she left for her home in St. Louis. She, we understand, in- tends to have her husband arrested and prose- cuted.

When the rebel raid on Danville, Ky., was made on Saturday last, Mr. W. A. Gunn, of Lexington, engineer of the new military railroad now being constructed to East Ten- nessee, happened to be at the Sneed House, and became a victim to the robbers. He had upon his person a gold watch valued at nearly two hundred dollars, some two hundred dol- lars in money, together with notes and checks amounting to a considerable sum. Two of the robbers approached him and asked what was his politics. He replied that he was a Union man. One of them took his watch from his vest pocket, with a pistol pointed at his breast, and required him to lose the guard chain. His pocketbook was then de- manded, which he gave up, of course, re- luctantly, stating that he thought the watch should have satisfied them. The robber then told Gunn he had a notion to shoot him, but mercifully permitted him to take a seat.

LOUISVILLE THEATRE.—An immense and unusually attractive bill of entertainment is offered to night by Miss St. Clair. First upon the programme is the beautiful fairy drama of the Fairy of Home, or the Painter's Dream, with the fair beneficiary as Gretzel, the Artist's wife, and the fairy Amorine, in which latter character she dances the shadow dance. Next upon the programme is that most convulsing of all modern productions, the Hypochondriac, with his author, Mr. Char. Barras, as Vertigo Morbid. The programme will conclude with Nature and Philosophy.

A heavy call for troops is made upon New York. A telegram received by Gov. Seymour from the Department at Washing- ton, states that the correct quota of New York under the new call, instead of being 35,000, as formerly stated, is 60,878. General Fry also advises Governor Seymour that New York State was deficient on the 17th of October 47,967 men, so that the whole number required before January next, to avoid the new draft, is 108,635.

SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.—At a court-martial in St. Louis, private John Roberts, company E, First Nebraska, was convicted of "deser- tion, larceny, and conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline." He was sentenced to be shot. The sentence has been confirmed by the Commanding General and approved by the President of the United States. The day of his execution is fixed at Friday, November 6th.

TURNED OVER TO THE CIVIL AUTHORITIES. John M. Kane, who was arrested by the military authorities some time since upon the charge of shooting two soldiers belonging to the Twentieth Kentucky regiment, was yester- day handed over to the civil authorities to be tried by them, it having been decided that the case did not belong to a military court.

AS DYSPHERIA is very prevalent at this season of the year, we publish the following remedy which is said to be a sure cure: A small quantity of sheep's suet, say a spoonful, chopped fine and boiled in a gill of milk, and drank on retiring to bed. Of course the throat is to be bound with flannel.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Joseph T. Bur- ton, an old citizen of this place and formerly Alderman from the Third ward, died yester- day at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Shrader, who lives in the country. Mr. Bur- ton had been a citizen of this place for more than forty years.

A BIG PILE OF GREENBACKS.—Fifteen United States paymasters and their clerks left Covington on Wednesday, in a special car, for Lexington. They are bound for Gen. Darns's army in East Tennessee, and take with them $2,800,000.

A BOILED LEG of mutton isn't just the thing without caper sauce. J. C. Ellis has the capers in their purity, with all the other sauces, at his new choice grocery, on Third street, in the old post-office building.

Mrs. Nancy Miller, alias White, the woman who was arrested in Newport, Ky., on Monday evening, on the charge of running off slaves, has been remanded back to Grant county to answer the charge.

Charles Stemmer, who keeps a whisky shop in New Albany, Ind., was arrested yester- day by Col. Mundy, and sent to the military prison for five days for selling liquor to soldiers.

James Brown and other newspaper correspondents, lately imprisoned in Libby prison, at Richmond, Virginia, have been re- moved to Castle Thunder.

Wm. J. Conner, of company B, Sixth Kentucky cavalry, and J. S. W. Paris, com- pany F, Fourth Kentucky cavalry, died in the hospital at Nashville on Wednesday.

Gen. Baell is in Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Gen. Rosecrans is still at his home at Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Fleete Scale has been appointed a Brig- adier General in the rebel service.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

This is the most delightful and efficacious article ever discovered. It changes the skin burst face and bands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth and the delicate softness to the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injuries to the skin. Patented by secretaries and opera singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold every- where.

Ladies should remember that there are as many grades of quality in furs as in cloths, silks, or any other goods. Their value de- pends on their genuineness, on the maturity of the fur at the time the skins were caught, and on their shape and trim. Ladies who very good judges, may overlook one or the other of these requisites. Messrs. Green & Green, corner of Main and Fourth streets, keep some but genuine furs and sell them under genuine names. They buy the best goods that are made, and warrant all goods as represented.

USE PREVENTIVES.—At this season of the year, when miasmatic diseases prevail to an alarming extent, preventive remedies should be used to guard against attacks, and the best remedies should be employed. Lyons' pure Catawba Brandy, manufactured from the Catawba grape, and the Greenberg Health Bitters, are very pure and excellent remedies, and may be had at the store of Raymond & Tyler, on Fourth street, near Main.

Truths that Defy Contradiction.
Read the following facts in relation to CRISTAD- RO'S EXCELLENT HAIR DYE, and then say if it has any equal in the world:

It neither burns the skin nor hair.
It colors every hair alike.
Its blacks and browns are Nature's duplicates.
It is applied in a few minutes.
It leaves a gloss upon the hair.
It is more permanent than other dyes.
It contains no corrosive ingredient.
And lastly, its inventor challenges a trial between this dye and any other in existence, whether of native or foreign origin.
